Hello Clevelanders!

Pinewood Derby

emo/pop-punk from Louisville, KY inspired by bands like Fifteen and The Broadways. 9 song CD called "The Eighteenth Emergency" out on Whitehouse Records for only $5.

Pinewood Derby is scheduled to play at 1:40 (PM) on Sunday June 6th at the Cleveland Punk Fest. They will also be returning to the Cleveland area on July 23rd during their 35-day tour of the east coast and Midwest.

SHORT MILLIE--

"an attempt to document" CD

After 4 years as a band, Short Millie has gradually shed their ska/punk roots. $8 Now they resemble more of a screamy Ebullition band. But out of the bursts of chaos comes a catchy, driving melody. HWM comes to mind, because of the song structures and vocals. This CD is one of the best things I've heard in years. It's really catchy but in it's own undeniable way.

ann beretta

"the other side of the coin" CD

This is a 13 song acoustic album by one of the best bands in the nation. Heartfelt lyrics combine with their catchy style of punk. Ann Beretta is one of those bands like Avail that tends to pull people from all genres to their shows. This things rules! $8

Distro:
Rotz,
Choke,
Revelation
No Idea.

coming soon: "Real Punk Don't Use Electricity" acoustic comp featuring: Ann Beretta, Sarge, Elliott, Alkaline Trio, Op: Cliff Clavin, Hankshaw, Kung Fu Monkeys, God's Reflex, Short Millie, Pinewood Derby, plus tons more.

also on Whitehouse Records for only $5: Skam Impaired CD, Punk at 1600 CD, Scallywagon, and lot of other releases. Write or email for a catalog.

ALL PRICES INCLUDE U.S. POSTAGE.

FOOD

Plenty of food options can be found by walking just a few blocks down from the venue. There's a Subway, Pizza Hut, Rally's, KFC, Burger King, and a supermarket (the one in the plaza, not the abandoned one...) If you wanna travel a little farther and get some really good vegan food, go to Soul Vegetarian Central, 2240 Lee Rd. (Go East on Euclid Ave., right when you get to Mayfield, go through Little Italy, up the hill and then some, right on Lee.) There is also a food co-op across the street from Soul V. If you wanna stay put and not spend much money, spaghetti will be available at the fest, and we will also be selling bottled drinks.

CRASH SPACE

We know that for the people coming from out of town, having to get a hotel sucks, and it's nice if you can avoid it.. So we'll do whatever we can to help find local kids who are willing to offer their living room floors. We'll try to get some kind of network going for this, so please, if you are either of the above (need a crash space or can offer one), come talk to the organizers.

THE BENEFICIARY

Proceeds from the fest will benefit Painesville Project Hope for the Homeless, an organization whose shelter is currently in a transitional stage. If you want to get involved in volunteering at the shelter, contact Judy Hamlett at (440) 354-6417.

SCHEDULE

(Disclaimer! Subject to changes and rearranges because those things happen in this crazy thing called punk rock. We don't have any control over bands who don't arrive on time, or don't show up at all. So if it happens, blame the band, not us. The big schedule at the main doors will keep you updated on any changes.)

ABOUT THE WORKSHOPS

AIDS PREVENTION WORKSHOP

Time: Saturday, approximately 4:15 pm

Hosted by: The House Project, from Lexington, KY

Description: This is a workshop dealing with sex, HIV/AIDS, and other STDs. "The HIV/AIDS virus was put on the table for discussion and then slapped into the laps of world, a modern day horror which has woken us the fuck up. Today, many youths are being promiscuous and not being responsible. Many people in this world are waking up to the atrocity of reality and wondering what the hell happened. One of the ways to cope with or defend against infection is knowledge. To educate yourself about your situation and your risk level will permit you to still have your pleasure, but will allow you to take that "educated risk". So please join us in a dissemination of information and preventive materials, and in a discussion of the present risk and situation of the local, global, and punk communities...[and a few surprises!] REMEMBER: Anything is possible. Anything can happen to you; Live in the now, Live safely and cautiously in the moment!"

WOMEN'S HEALTH WORKSHOP

Time: Sunday, approximately 3:00

Hosted by: Sarah, Cincinnati OH

Description: This workshop will discuss reusable menstrual products, the effects of disposables on our bodies and minds, and the social stigma attached to menstruation. We will also talk about the Cincinnati Wimin's Health Circle and why everyone should start their own....

SCREENPRINTING WORKSHOP

Time: Sunday, approximately 5:00

Hosted by: Kyle from Garden City, NY

Description: Learn how to screenprint your own patches and shirt-silkscreening. He prints patches for bands, activist groups, zines, etc., and is in 2 bands—Textbook Hero, and Insurgent (touring this summer). If you want to write to Kyle about patches: 129 Kilburn Rd., Garden City, NY 11530

A FEW WORDS FROM BRAD

My life lately has been up and down, and the one thing I have always had to think about in the past four or five months was this fest. I worried, I got excited, I worried, and I got excited.. How often do you get a chance to get this many great people together for a good cause? Ok, now that you have thought about it and answered with "never", how do you feel about what you are involved in? This is the beginning of something that I hope Cleveland, but more importantly, the world of punk rock, can build off of. I know we aren't the first fest and we won't be the last but I hope this one can bring about change of some sort to someone. It might just be little Timmy from Oklahoma that got to see Hot Water Music for the first time and was amazed or saw Discount and was the happiest kid alive at that moment.

I hope by putting this on and giving my time and my heart to this that someone will leave with something meaningful. As long as I have that feeling deep inside that I can better the world by doing shows and fests and staying involved, I will. I can't speak for anyone else involved with the fest but that is me. Who are you, why are you here? I hope you're here because this is a part of your life, not just a band playing good music. There are a lot of kids reading this right now, hell maybe even most of you, saying to yourself, I wanna kick this dork's ass. Well, I guess we don't feel the same 'bout things and I don't want to get my ass kicked, so please don't do it, thanks! While you're watching the bands and hearing the people talk during the workshops, please remember that everyone involved with this--the bands, the people doing workshops, distros, and everyone that worked to get this thing moving--have a part of their heart in it and so should you!

ENJOY*SMILE*HUG*LAUGH*TALK*HANGOUT*HELP OUT*
....as FRAIL would say, "MAKE YOUR OWN NOISE"

-Brad

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT THE BANDS...

It's rather hard to write descriptions for almost 40 bands without starting to sound boring and redundant, so I tried to make these somewhat interesting...

9 Shocks Terror One of Cleveland's most hyped hardcore bands.

Alkaline Trio Rock n roll Chicago style.

Astrid Oto Girl-fronted band with Aaron Cometbus on drums.

Beckett and Friends A boy, his beer, and his "friends".

Bedford Pop-punk nerddrock from Wilkes-Barre, PA.

Bonzai Local grind for the kiddies.

Chalkline Melodic hardcore hometown boys.

Circle of Dead Children Crazy Iron City grind.

Convulsion "Dogs don't wanna be crusty!"

Crucial Unit Caught in the mosh!

Deliver Me 614 representin in cheerleading uniforms.

Dillinger 4 Favorite band of the Pinkerton Thugs.

Discount Music to make out to.

Gordon Solie Motherfuckers The people your mom warned you about Grade The illegitimate child of emo and metal?

Happosai The only grindcore band I know of that covers the Divinyls.

Hot Water Music Hardcore/emo heroes; chestpatters unite!

I Farm A fun punk band with a positive message, from NY.

Joshua Tree Melodic and lively punk rock from Clevo.

The Judas Factor Ex-108/Threadbare, on Revelation Records.

The Junking Theory A very unique and creative Cleveland band..

Kid Dynamite Ex-Lifetime; you know you love em.

Leatherface Hardcore punk legends from Ireland, reunited.

LES Stitches NYC punk rock; a late addition to the fest.

Libertine Glam-rockers from Syracuse, NY.

Long Live Nothing Ex-Charles Bronson. Protect your nose from flying fists. (Heh, a little inside joke..)

MU330 Ska from Missouri

Pinewood Derby Fifteen couldn't come, so we got these guys instead.

Pinkerton Thugs Political, workin class Boston band-and sexy to boot!

Puncture Wound Break out the lighter fuel & flame-throwers, kiddies.

(No, just kidding!!)

Race Traitor An upfront, political hardcore band from IL.

Sarge Rockin' girlfronted pop.

Six Going on Seven Put on your prom dress..

Tuuli These Canadian girls got attitude.

The Unseen Spike up your hair for this Boston streetpunk band.

The Vermin Local punk rock band.

A FEW WORDS FROM KRISSIE

Putting together this fest was probably the most demanding project I have ever taken on... At times throughout the planning, I was ready to scream or pull my hair out. Not a day went by in May that I wasn't imagining every worst case scenario possible that could happen—like bands cancelling, fights, cops, losing money... and so on. I actually had nightmares about the fest on a few occasions!

Needless to say, this weekend took a great amount of work to put together, and with that in mind, I hope that people will respect our efforts--Meaning, please, don't fight, don't wreck stuff, and don't steal stuff... And please, don't try to sneak in.. This fest is a benefit for the homeless, and we also have a lot of bands to pay--sneak in and you screw us, the bands, and the beneficiary. So, remember those basic guidelines and you can do your part to help the fest run smoothly.. (if you want to see another one next year!)

But anyway, despite the worrying, this has been a very rewarding experience as well. I've made some great new friends, and gained a lot of confidence in myself, not to mention that it was a lot of fun. And I hope everyone who comes through the doors will have just as much fun as I will this weekend.
Oh yeah, and check out the workshops; they're just as important a part of the fest as anything else. And you might actually learn something! =)

There are many people who should be thanked; among them are the guys at Speak-in-Tongues, the bands that played any of the benefit shows to help the fest financially, and people who bought ads in this zine, which helped us fund it. Also, the flyer brigade: the people who copied and/or helped us distribute flyers all over the place. A big thanks to all the bands playing this weekend, the workshop people, and to our awesome "crew" for helping out with the dirty work, and of course to Brad for being my organizing partner and putting up with my bullheadedness. Lastly but definitely not least, thanks to "the kids" who support the Clevo scene... It couldn't happen without you, of course.

CLEVELAND HAPPENINGS

FOOD NOT BOMBS Cleveland FNB meets every Sunday at about 1 PM at "The Storefront", which is a few doors to the left of Speak in Tongues on Lorain Ave. Here the cooking is done, and a few hours later it's off to Public Square to feed the hungry people of the city. It's a fun (and tasty) experience. To get in contact, call Dan at (216) 694-2169, or Rob at (440) 779-6116

PRO CHOICE DEMONSTRATIONS Demonstrate for pro-choice every second Saturday of every month with the Cleveland Pro-Choice Action League (CPAL). (Next demo is June 12). The location is E. 121st and Shaker Blvd., right by the abortion clinic. Time is from 10-11:30 AM. Show your support for reproductive freedom for women. "We do this the second Saturday of every month so that people can see, yes, there are pro-choice people in Cleveland, and we support the doctors and staff who stand strong and continue to practice this legal right, despite terrorist tactics. Please join us. Call CPAL for info 216/491-2157"

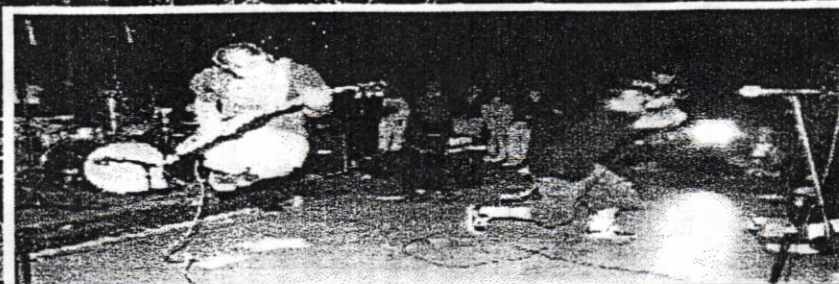

CRITICAL MASS What is CRITICAL MASS about? Next time you go for a walk or ride your bike, take a few minutes to look around and picture your city free of cars. What would the streets be filled with? What would your city smell like, sound like, and feel like, without autos? If you can envision a street filled with hundreds of bicycles, casually pedaling down your street, breathing clean air, the serenity broken only by conversations between riders, and the occasional chime of a bell, then you've just pictured Critical Mass. Critical Mass is about people-powered machines in a people-oriented society. Cars, designed for high speed highway trips, are trapped in our cities. They are dangerous, injuring and killing pedestrians and cyclists, spewing noxious odors and creating sound pollution. Cars aren't made for cities. Why are we designing cities for cars? Urban areas devote 40% of their land to parking space for cars alone!

CM is an organized mass bike ride. The idea started in San Fran in 1992 and quickly spread to cities all over the world. We want to get as many people as possible out into the streets, so bring your friends and invite every motorist to CM. All you need is a bike. The rides are on the first Friday of every month at 5:30 in Public Square. For questions, contact: Rob (440) 779-6116, or email rob114@hotmail.com

CAMP KIDDIECORE Do you remember kiddie camp? Roasting marshmallows and telling stories around the campfire...Sleeping under the stars while listening to crickets chirp (and the raccoons rummaging about)...Hiking through the woods, tug-of-war, canoe races, cannon balls into the river... Camp KiddieCore is one weekend of summer to go back to camp, meet new friends, and relive all of the above, with a punk rock twist. This event will take place at a campsite somewhere in Ohio, July 8-11. The exact location has not been confirmed yet, so keep checking www.frictiondesign.com/campkiddiecore or email krissie@frictiondesign.com to get on the e-mailing list... or look for the flyers at Cleveland Fest.
